DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. 3326091 to Allen.

The patent to Allen discloses a metal bellows tube wherein sectional shapes of a ridge and a valley in a bellows-shaped tube wall are V-shaped, as recited in claim 1.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese 9-14528 to Masahiro.

The Masahiro reference discloses a metal bellows tube wherein sectional shapes of a ridge and a valley in a bellows-shaped tube wall are V-shaped, as recited in claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2-4, 7-10 and 13-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Masahiro.

The Masahiro reference discloses the recited structure, as discussed in the preceding paragraph, and further includes a metal braid (3) joined with the respectively corresponding ends of the metal bellows tube. The reference further discloses that the hose is utilized in the environment of feeding of hydrogen gas, as recited in claim 9. The prior art disclosed in the reference, fig. 5 illustrates an end piece (300) being joined to the end of the metal braid by welding (301), as recited in claim 9. Masahiro does not specifically disclose dimensions regarding the pitch of the bellows, the thickness of the bellows wall, outside diameter and the total sectional area of the metal braid member. Given that the prior art hose of Masahiro functions in the same field of endeavor as the present invention and the fact that the prior art hose and the hose of the present invention are both include metallic inner hoses having V-shape corrugations with metallic braids there on, it would have been obvious mechanical expedients to modify various dimensions of the hose, including bellows wall thickness, bellows pitch, pipe diameter and/or total sectional area of the metallic braid member in order to satisfy the recited equation in order to allow for a particular degree of stretch when the high pressure fluid is passed through the pipe.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 11 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The recited prior art is pertinent to Applicant's invention in disclosing corrugated pipes including metallic braids there on.
